Important Notes about our Butterfly Kits

Please read delivery information on this page. Arrival dates may vary. Please pre-order early if possible to ensure availability on dispatch date required. We will endeavour to send your live caterpillars the week you select. We reserve the right to change the dispatch date due to an overabundance of orders for one day, or weather.

Delivery takes 2-4 days within the UK. Order for dispatch on the Friday of the week before if you need the kit early in the following week. You must clearly indicate what week you want your caterpillars dispatched on our order form or on your own order form; otherwise, they will be sent within 2-10 working days from receipt of order. For full details of our dispatch dates, please see our website.

You will be charged a restocking fee if you return them for another dispatch date. The non-live portion (including habitats) of your order may be sent out separately 7-10 working days from the date we receive the order.

Very Important Dispatch Information

The caterpillars in our butterfly kits take three to five weeks to develop, depending on temperature (a constant room temperature is essential for proper development). Please observe this when ordering and schedule your kit to arrive when you have a term long enough to observe the entire life cycle. Please order when it is warm enough in your area to set the butterflies free – Spring, Summer, Early Autumn (March to mid-September only).

If you order kits with a Caterpillar Voucher you must keep a copy of the original Voucher and redeem this online when you are ready to receive your live caterpillars. It is very important to keep note of your unique Voucher Code in case of any queries. If you order kits with live caterpillars, the caterpillars will be sent to you within 2-10 working days – unless otherwise specified on our order form or on your own order form. Please note the difference between "Dispatch Dates" and "Delivery Dates." We will quote a dispatch date for you, not a delivery date.
